This manual provides a financial history of Utah's institutions of higher education from 1959-69. Total expenditures and revenues for educational and general purposes are included. Comparative information is given for each institution on: instruction, administrative and general operations, library and museum, physical plant operation and maintenance, extension, and the various line items related to the operation of higher education. The major part of the money recommended in the budget proposal is considered necessary just to meet enrollment and cost-of-living increases. Most of the budget is committed to the teaching of undergraduates. Small state appropriations are suggested to expand public services in extension and encourage greater levels of research activity. A comparison is included of the Coordinating Council's recommendations with action taken by the Utah State Legislature in the 1969 session. The bulk of the manual consists of figures and tables. Investing in higher education produces multiple dividends. The State's economy grows and the lives of individuals become fuller and more productive as higher education carries out its mission. New technological industry is attracted by outstanding institutions of higher learning. Private and federal research dollars are drawn to institutions with outstanding faculty and strong programs.

Utah has long shown keen interest in the education of its youth and has made a greater than average per capita investment in higher education. But we have large families, and more of our youth attend colleges and universities for longer times than most. Therefore, our per-student expenditures still run far below the national average. State appropriations have trailed even further behind, making it necessary to charge resident tuition above national averages. Non-resident fees have also been increased rapidly.

Higher education is thus recognized as both a tax producer and a tax consumer. With a total operation amounting to more than $100,000,000, some $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 is recovered in state and local taxes as a result of the operation. As ways are found to improve the quality of programs at institutions of higher education, still greater improvement can be achieved in the development of the higher education industry.

The major part of the money recommended in this budget proposal is necessary just to meet enrollment and cost-of-living increases. Most of the budget is committed to the teaching of undergraduate students. Small state appropriations are suggested to expand needed public services in extension and to encourage greater levels of research activity.

This manual provides a financial history of Utah's institutions of higher learning from 1959 to the present. Total expenditures and revenues for educational and general purposes are provided. Comparative information is given for each institution on Instruction, Administrative and General, Library and Museum, Physical Plant Operation and Maintenance, Extension, and the various line items related to the operation of higher education. ~~The major sections have been tabbed for convenient reference.~~

Enrollment and Enrollment Projections

Enrollment in Utah's post-high school institutions is continuing to increase at a very rapid rate. There are a number of reasons for the increases, but principally the following:

The number of high school graduates is expected to increase each year, at least through the next decade.

An increasingly higher percent of Utah high school graduates are enrolling in post-high school institutions.

The percent of entering freshmen who continue on to upper division and graduate instruction is continuing to increase.

Enrollment in the State technical colleges is increasing at a rapidly accelerating rate.

Enrollment Increases are Greater Than Were Anticipated Two Years Ago

When the Council made its budget recommendations for the 1967-69 biennium, fall term enrollment was expected to reach 39,472 by the fall of 1968. Actual enrollment was 39,768, or nearly 1 percent more than was anticipated. Fall term enrollment for 1969 has been projected at 42,449, which represents an increase of approximately 7 percent over the current year.

Enrollment, by institution, for the year 1968-69 is compared with projected enrollment for 1969-70, as follows:

Tuition and Registration Fees

Section 53-34-1 of the Utah Code, as amended in 1967, established minimum tuition and registration fees for each institution of higher education in Utah for the academic years 1967-68 and 1968-69.

Section 53-34-2 of the Utah Code provides that "The governing board of each institution of higher education may for its institution charge such tuition in excess of the minimum tuition and such special fees as in its judgment the needs of the institution require."

The detail of tuition and registration fees as well as other special fees charged at the various institutions for 1967-68 and 1968-69 and the fees proposed for 1969-70 are listed in detail in Section N. Also included in Section N are schedules comparing resident and nonresident tuition and board and room charges at Utah institutions with institutions in other states.

Because state funds available to the institutions for the 1967-69 biennium were less than the amounts appropriated by the Legislature, the institutions found it necessary to increase tuition in 1968-69 above the level originally anticipated. For this reason, the Council has proposed only minimal further increases in tuition for resident students for 1969-70 but recommends additional increases in nonresident tuition as indicated by the following schedule:

Waiver of Tuition

There are a number of special statutory provisions dealing with the waiver of tuition.

Section 53-34-2.1 permits:

- (1) The waiver of all or part of the tuition in behalf of meritorious or impecunious resident students to an amount not exceeding 10 percent of the total amount of such tuition and the resident fees collected from all Utah resident students at the institution, and
- (2) The waiver of all or part of the resident portion of the tuition in behalf of the following number of nonresident students:

Institution	Number of Students
University of Utah	100
Utah State University	100
Weber State College	30
College of Southern Utah	15
College of Eastern Utah	5
Snow College	5
Dixie College	5

- (3) Upon recommendation of the Coordinating Council of Higher Education, additional full or partial tuition waivers may be granted to encourage students to enroll for instruction in occupations critical to the State for which trained personnel is in short supply.
- (4) The waiver of the nonresident portion of the fees in the case of meritorious graduate students and summer school students whose residence is not in Utah.

Sections 53-31-17 and 53-39-1 and 2 provide for the abatement of tuition for students enrolled in teacher education, as follows:

University of Utah	100
Utah State University	100
Weber State College	75
College of Southern Utah	40
College of Eastern Utah	10
Dixie College	10
Snow College	10

The total dollar amount of such tuition waivers and scholarships anticipated for 1968-69 have been reported by the institutions as follows:

No nonresident tuition is charged for summer session, and the amount of such waivers therefore is not available for inclusion in the above schedule.

* Although there apparently is no specific statutory authority for this item, fifty per cent rehabilitation scholarships have been allowed by the institution for many years. The State Office of Rehabilitation Services uses such scholarships as third-party credits to match federal rehabilitation funds on a one to three basis.

Funding Formula

Commencing with the 1967-69 biennium, the Council presented average costs and recommended appropriations in terms of lower division full time equivalent students (LDFTE).

Weighting factors were used as follows:

Lower Division Students
(Freshmen and Sophomores)	1.0
Upper Division Students
(Juniors and Seniors)	1.5
Graduate Students	3.0

The Council observed at that time that the proposed formula did not completely solve the problem of proper apportionment among the institutions and that further refinements in the formula were expected to be made in the future as additional information became available.

One additional change in the formula appears to be justified by data developed within the State and by the experience of other states. This is the recognition of the added costs involved at the advanced graduate level. In computing LDFTE students in this report, graduate students have been classified at two levels and weighted as follows:

Basic Graduates (including all students at the masters level and below, and the first year of the doctoral program) have been given a weight of	3.0
Advanced Graduates (including only those students who have been admitted to the doctoral program and have already completed not less than 36 credit hours of graduate work) have been given a weight of	4.5

The net effect of this change is to increase the LDFTE students at the two universities.

The comparative costs per LDFTE student expressed under the two formulas would be as follows for the three years 1967-68 to 1969-70:

Year	University of Utah Cost per LDFTE		Utah State University Cost per LDFTE
	Under Original Formula	Under Revised Formula	Under Original Formula	Under Revised Formula
1967-68 Actual	875	850	750	734
1968-69 Budgeted	943	917	816	798
1969-70 Recommended	1,026	997	940	920

It is expected that accuracy and comparability of cost data will continue to improve with the implementation of uniform accounting and reporting procedures and that as such information justifies, continuing refinement and improvement can be made in the funding formula.

RESEARCH EXPENDITURES STRENGTHEN UTAH'S TAX BASE

In 1967 the Council recommended that additional dollars be added as line items to each of the universities to increase their capacity to attract outside research dollars. For fiscal year 1967-68 and 1968-69 the University of Utah was granted $628,800 for each year. For the same years Utah State University was granted $220,800 and $225,400, respectively. These amounts were to be made available when an adequate increase in funded research and training grants had been achieved.

In fiscal year 1966-67 the University of Utah received $19,800,000 in funded research and training grants. The first year of the 1967-69 biennium funded grants increased by $5,900,000 to $25,700,000. This increase is 9.4 times the new state appropriation of $628,000.

In fiscal 1966-67 Utah State University received $6,021,000 in funded grants. In 1967-68 grants increased by $1,707,000 to $7,728,000 or 7.7 times the $220,800 appropriated to encourage expansion of these grants.

According to Master Plan Study Committee J (Research and Graduate Education), for every $10 million spent by universities on research, state and local taxes will increase by a total of $1.2 to $1.6 million. While the state added $849,600 in new appropriations the grants increased by $5.9 million. The tax returns from this increase are estimated between $708,000 and $944,000.

Grants are estimated for 1968-69 to exceed $30 million. State and local tax revenue from this expenditure would be from $3.6 to $4.8 million.

In addition to these returns this program strengthens graduate education, lowers the net cost of graduate education, attracts additional industry and improves Utah's contribution to total research.

The Council recommends that the state appropriate to the University of Utah $1,380,000 for research and training grants in fiscal 1969-70 and to the Utah State University $350,000 for the same period.

A summary of research expenditures from 1961 to 1968 is presented in the following chart.

ORGANIZATION OF THE REMAINDER OF THIS BOOK

This publication has been tabbed for easier reference.

Sections A through J deal with actual and projected enrollments, per student costs, and sources of revenue per student, both resident and non-resident, on an individual institution and total state basis.

Sections K through N deal with specific areas of budget information. Comparable data on each institution is included in the one section for greater convenience in making comparisons.

Section O, "Budget Recommendations", presents the detail of the items proposed to be budgeted for the various institutions and includes expenditures as well as the plan for financing. Federal and other special sources of revenue have been separately identified. The total state funds have been separately identified but combined to include general fund appropriations, state mineral lease funds, and other state funds.

Revenue and expenses of auxiliary enterprises have not been included in this report.

The total recommended appropriations to higher education for 1969-70 are summarized on the following schedule:

A COMPARISON OF COORDINATING COUNCIL RECOMMENDATIONS

WITH ACTION TAKEN BY THE UTAH STATE LEGISLATURE

1969 SESSION

ACTION OF THE UTAH LEGISLATURE ON HIGHER EDUCATION

1969 REGULAR SESSION

The Thirty-eighth Utah Legislature enacted into law a variety of bills affecting higher education during its regular session--ranging from a new system of governance to the strengthening of campus law enforcement.

In the area of budgeting and finance, the Legislature approved an appropriation of $40,000,000 for the 1969-70 fiscal year, a decrease of $3,276,494 from the Coordinating Council's recommendations. The amounts recommended and the actual appropriation are shown on pages 18-19.

Other legislation affecting fiscal procedures included the following:

1. A new schedule of minimum tuition fees for resident and nonresident students is established for all of the publicly supported institutions of higher education by H.B. 318. (See page 20.)
2. Permission for institutions of higher education to finance self-liquidating projects through the issuance of revenue bonds is given in S.B. 206.
3. A loan of $3,000,000 from the state insurance fund to a student loan fund is authorized by S.B. 266, providing assistance for resident students to attend an eligible institution of higher education.
4. Appropriations to post-high school educational institutions are not among those that will lapse if not used by July 31 of each fiscal year. These funds are specifically exempted by Sec. 8 of the new Budgetary Procedures Act, S.B. 2.

Other action taken by the Legislature included the following:

1. A 15-member State Board of Higher Education is established by S.B. 10, replacing all existing governing boards of the institutions except the State Board of Vocational Education (the State Board of Education) for the two technical colleges.

The new Board also replaces the Coordinating Council of Higher Education and assumes the powers and responsibilities of the Council. Provision is made for appointment of a Commissioner of Higher Education to serve as the Board's chief executive officer. Each institution, except the two technical colleges, will have a nine-member institutional council, to which certain powers may be delegated by the Board.

The new Board has the power to appoint institutional presidents, maintain an up-to-date master plan, prescribe standardized systems of accounts, prepare a combined appropriation request for the higher education system, assign institutional roles, approve any substantial alterations in the scope of institutional operations, conduct program reviews, approve degrees granted, and approve building programs.

2. The 1967 act creating a state junior college at Roosevelt was repealed by S.B. 14. Continuing education centers at or near Roosevelt and Moab are to be established by Utah State University. A total of $180,000 was appropriated for this purpose.
3. Several bills dealing with campus police powers and enforcement of regulations were passed. They provide for the establishment of police or security departments and for the enforcement of traffic and parking laws on campus; provide penalties for persons damaging real or personal property on campus; and empower campus authorities to ask for and receive law enforcement assistance from local governmental units or the Utah Highway Patrol. S.B. 17, S.B. 111, S.B. 112, and H.J.R. 2 are concerned with campus law enforcement.
4. A Utah Legislative Council planning committee on higher education, consisting of four members from the Senate and four from the House of Representatives (and equally divided between the Republican and Democratic parties) is established by S.B. 18. The committee is empowered to evaluate the effectiveness of legislation pertaining to higher education, to make studies and recommendations, and to review studies, master plans, and financial requirements of higher education. It will report to the Legislative Council.
5. The name of the College of Southern Utah is changed to Southern Utah State College, under provisions of S.B. 225.
6. Officers of the State Board of Higher Education will be representatives on the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, as provided by S.B. 16.
